

CONTENTS

"Women's Studies in Thailand", first published in Women's /Gender Studies in Asia-Pacific, UNESCO, Bangkok 2004	7
"Women's Human Rights : A Means or An End to Human Dignity?", in Proceedings of Women's Studies Research Training for Youth Research Institute Hanoi, Vietnam , Women's Studies Center, Faculty of Social Sciences, Chiangmai University, 1998., pp. 26-42	57
The Women's Movement and Legal Reform in Thailand, April 1 st , 2003, Cornell Law School Berger International Speaker Series.	77
Legalization of Prostitution: A Challenge to Feminism and Societal Conscience, A Talk at the Cornell Law School Berger International Speaker Series, March 9 th 2004	89
July 22 nd 2003, Palais Des Nations (United Nations), Geneva	97
No Entry for Women : The Nation, August 12 th 2004	103
The Power of Law and Women's Presence in Thaksin Era, Cornell Law School Berger International Speaker Series. April 4 th 2005	107
A statement submitted to the FAO "Gender and Women in Agriculture and Rural Development- Sub-regional Resource Persons" Network Meeting, at the Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific, Bangkok, October 24 th 2005	129

A Position Paper Submitted to the Asian Women's Fund
at "Expert Meeting on Domestic Violence Against Women",
7-9 August 2000, Tokyo, 135

Women in the constitution of Thailand:
A Far-fetched Hope for Equality 167

Current Status of Laws/Issues Highlighting Discrimination against Women: The Case of Thailand 193

สำหรับการศึกษและการอ้างอิงเท่านั้น
For educational use and reference only