

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgments	ix
Abbreviations	xiii
1 Stopping Global Terrorism and Protecting Rights Steve Tsang	1
Part I: Identifying and Rectifying Inadequacies	15
2 The British Quest for Transparency Mark Urban	17
3 Lessons from the Iranian Case and the Changing Face of American Intelligence Jack Caravelli	26
Part II: The Wider Political Context	39
4 Political Supervision of Intelligence Services in the United Kingdom John N.L. Morrison	41
5 Intelligence Oversight in the United States Loch K. Johnson	54
6 Parliamentary Oversight of Intelligence: The German Approach Christian Heyer	67
7 An Appropriate Legal Framework for Dealing with Modern Terrorism and WMD Richard G. Stearns	78
8 Human Rights and Human Intelligence Alex Danchev	93

Part III: Toward New Intelligence Systems	109
9 Preparing to Meet New Challenges	111
Peter Wilson
10 Efficient Resource Allocation	121
George Maior and Sebastian Huluban
11 A New Approach to Intelligence Assessment	132
Isaac Ben-Israel
12 In Search of a New Intelligence System: The British Experience	145
Anthony Glee
13 Setting Priorities in a World of Changing Threats	158
Richard J. Aldrich
Notes	171
Index	201
About the Contributors	221

For educational use and reference only