

Contents

Foreword	iii
Executive Summary	1
1. Conceptual Aspects and Importance of a Demand-Side Study	14
1.1 Introduction	14
1.2 The nuances of “demand” and “demand side”	15
1.3 Complexity of issues involved in demand-side analysis	16
1.4 Exploitation of victims at the points of destination	20
1.5 Migration and trafficking	21
1.6 Importance of a demand-side study	22
2. Overview of the Human Trafficking Situation in Asia	26
2.1 Introduction	26
2.2 South-east Asia	27
2.3 South Asia	27
3. Objectives and Scope of this Demand-side Study	30
3.1 Objective	30
3.2 Scope and methodology of the research	30
3.3 The synthesis report	33
3.4 Limitations of the study	33
4. Commercial Sex Sector	36
4.1 Introduction	36
4.2 Clients' demand	36
4.3 Employers' demand	44
4.4 Sex workers' experiences	49
4.5 Key findings on the commercial sex sector	59
5. Domestic Labour	64
5.1 Introduction	64
5.2 Employers' demand for domestic services	64
5.3 Education and occupational status of the employers using domestic workers	65
5.4 Preference for domestic workers in terms of age and sex	66
5.5 How are domestic workers recruited?	66
5.6 Accepting domestic work under pressure	66
5.7 Willingness of domestic worker to continue in the job	68
5.8 Trafficking of persons into domestic work	68
5.9 Migration and getting into domestic labour	69
5.10 Conditions of work	69
5.11 Facilities provided to domestic workers and deprivations	71
5.12 Key findings on the domestic labour sector	72

6.	Organized Begging	76
6.1	Introduction	76
6.2	Beggars and their physical characteristics	76
6.3	Factors that contribute to the demand for beggars	77
6.4	The persons involved in this business	78
6.5	The process of getting into begging	78
6.6	Voluntary/involuntary involvement in begging	79
6.7	Beggar masters and how they recruit	80
6.8	Training persons to beg	80
6.9	Whether migration is involved in begging practice	80
6.10	Key findings on children in organized begging	82
7.	Fireworks Production Industry	86
7.1	Introduction	86
7.2	Why is there a demand for children?	86
7.3	The supply situation and vulnerability	86
7.4	How the employers recruit child workers	87
7.5	Trafficking of children	87
7.6	Conditions of work	87
7.7	Key findings on the fireworks production industry	88
8.	Children in Armed Conflict	90
8.1	Introduction	90
8.2	Child soldiers in Nepal	90
8.3	Child soldiers in Sri Lanka	95
8.4	Voices from former child soldiers	98
8.5	Key findings on the use of child soldiers	99
9.	Recommendations	102
	References	106

For educational use and reference only