

Contents

Preface by the UN Secretary-General	7	2.1 Refugee women and girls: surviving violence and neglect 60
Foreword by the UN High Commissioner for Refugees	8	2.2 Repatriation to Myanmar 62
		2.3 The problem of statelessness 67
		2.4 El Salvador: protection through documentation 72
		2.5 Restoring stability in Tajikistan 77
		2.6 Protecting Europe's minorities: preventing refugee movements 80
Introduction Searching for solutions	11
1 Changing approaches to the refugee problem	19	3 Keeping the peace	97
Population displacements in the 1990s		New directions in peacekeeping
Humanitarian and strategic imperatives		Comprehensive peace-plan operations
Traditional approaches to the refugee problem		Working in war zones
Contemporary forces for change		Making use of military assets
Emerging trends and strategies		Humanitarianism, politics and war
Difficulties and dangers of the new paradigm		3.1 Demobilization, disarmament and demilitarization 108
1.1 Displaced people in the former Soviet states 24		3.2 The Liberian conflict: no solution in sight 113
1.2 Realizing the rights of younger refugees 28		3.3 Responding to the Rwandese refugee crisis: the military contribution 122
1.3 Rwanda: causes and consequences of the refugee crisis 32		3.4 Saving Sarajevo: the UNHCR airlift operation 126
1.4 International action on behalf of internally displaced people 40		3.5 Safe areas: a substitute for asylum? 128
1.5 CIREFCA: resolving Central America's refugee problem 50		3.6 The laws of war 134
2 Protecting human rights	57	4 Promoting development	143
Human rights and the refugee problem		Development and displacement
Institutional arrangements and relationships		Prevention through development
Realizing the right to live in safety		Linking relief with longer-term assistance
Protection, integration and repatriation		Environmental dimensions of the refugee problem
Temporary protection or permanent asylum?		Rebuilding shattered societies
Protecting refugees through resettlement		4.1 Guatemala: going back to the land 150
		4.2 Trees and refugees 164
		4.3 Refugees and the local economy in Zambia 168
		4.4 The challenge of reintegration in Mozambique 174
		4.5 Conflict and reconstruction in Afghanistan 182

5	Managing migration	187		Figures
	People on the move			1.1 Refugees and other persons of concern to UNHCR, 1975-1995 20
	The migration window and the asylum door			1.2 Persons of concern to UNHCR by region, 1985-1995 35
	Restrictive asylum practices: cause and effect			1.3 UNHCR expenditure, 1970-1994 36
	Migratory pressures: the scope for action in countries of origin			1.4 New UNHCR national offices, 1991-1994 43
	Orderly migration alternatives			2.1 Former Yugoslav citizens with temporary protection in Europe 86
	Refugee protection and irregular population movements			2.2 Refugees resettled by UNHCR, 1979-1994 91
5.1	South Africa's immigration issue 190			2.3 UNHCR resettlement cases by region of origin, 1990-1994 92
5.2	Migrant trafficking: the Sri Lankan experience 192			2.4 UNHCR resettlement cases by receiving country, 1991-1994 93
5.3	Asylum in Germany 202			3.1 UN peacekeeping expenditures, 1989-1994 100
5.4	Vietnamese boat people: the end of the story 208			3.2 Fatalities in UN peacekeeping operations, 1989-1994 100
5.5	Central Europe: transit and training 224			3.3 Personnel deployed in UN peacekeeping operations, 1990-1994 101
				3.4 Beneficiaries of UN humanitarian assistance in Bosnia and Herzegovina 118
				3.5 Beneficiaries of UN humanitarian assistance in former Yugoslavia 119
				4.1 Rates of economic growth in selected regions, 1985-1994 145
				4.2 Official development assistance, 1974-1993 154
				4.3 Actual and projected global military spending, 1987-2000 156
				5.1 Asylum applications in Western European states, 1983-1994 194
				5.2 Asylum applications in Australia, Canada and the USA, 1983-1994 195
				5.3 Asylum decisions in Western Europe, 1989-1993 198
	Conclusion	233
	Investing in the future
	Annex I
	The problem of refugee statistics	244
	Annex II
	Statistical tables	247
	Annex III
	UNHCR in brief	256
	Bibliography	259
	Endnotes	263
	Maps
A	The world's major refugee situations 12
B	Cross-border population displacements in the Caucasus 25
C	The Rwandese refugee population 33
D	The Bangladesh/Myanmar repatriation programme 63
E	UN peacekeeping operations 99
F	Displaced Liberians and Sierra Leoneans 114
G	Former Yugoslavia: road convoy routes 136
H	The Mexico/Guatemala repatriation programme 151
I	Repatriation to Mozambique 175
J	Displaced Afghans 183
K	Vietnamese camp population and returnees 209			