

PREFACE

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

LIST OF TABLES

LIST OF CHARTS

ABSTRACT

PROJECTED DEMOGRAPHIC INDICATORS

THE NEED TO MAKE POPULATION PROJECTIONS 1

PROJECTING THE DEMOGRAPHIC SITUATION 2

Projections for creating the future
 Making the population projections
 Data and assumptions for the projections

FUTURE SIZE AND GROWTH OF POPULATION 13

BIRTHS RATES, DEATH RATES AND NATURAL INCREASE 18

AGE-SEX COMPOSITION 20

Size and growth of young children (0-4 years)
 Issues on children under 5 years
 Size and growth of school age population (5 to 14 years)
 Size and growth of the youth population
 Issues on youth population
 Size and growth of working ages
 Issues on the population of working ages
 Size and growth of the elderly
 Issues on the elderly population
 Dependency ratio

PROJECTIONS OF THE LABOUR FORCE 32

Projecting the labour force
 Assumptions on participation rates
 The projected size and growth of labour force
 Net new entries to the labour force
 Age-sex composition of the labour force

REFERENCES 40

TERMINOLOGY 41

APPENDIX 44

Table A. Projected population by single years of age and sex, 1991: standard projection
 Table B. Projected population by age and sex, 1991 to 2031 : standard, high and low projections
 Table C. Percentage distribution of population by age and sex: 1991 to 2031 standard, high and low projections
 Table D. Population by age and sex, 1991 to 2031: with fertility and mortality constant as at 1986-91