

Table of Contents

|   |            |
|---|------------|
| Foreword   | 4   |
| Regional Overview: NHRIs and Critical Moments in Asia                                    | 6   |
| Southeast-Asia  |            |
| Burma: Lost in Transition  | 13  |
| Indonesia: Komnas HAM's Plummeting Credibility   | 23  |
| Malaysia: Minimal Impact despite Major Measures Taken                                    | 45  |
| The Philippines: Divided Leadership and Lacklustre Performance                           | 58  |
| Thailand: National Security Trumps Rights  | 76  |
| Timor-Leste: Lacking Pro-activeness and Transparency                                     | 88  |
| South Asia  |            |
| Bangladesh: Still Yet to Prove Itself  | 110 |
| India: An Opportunity for Statutory Changes?   | 130 |
| The Maldives: Effectiveness in Doubt   | 146 |
| Nepal: Yet to Rise to Post-conflict Challenges   | 167 |
| Pakistan: Delay and Uncertainty in Establishing the National Commission for Human Rights | 179 |
| Sri Lanka: The National Human Rights Commission Marionette of the State                  | 190 |
| Northeast-Asia  |            |
| Japan: Positive Abroad but Negative at Home  | 217 |
| Mongolia: Moving towards Greater Effectiveness   | 226 |
| South Korea: More Concern than Hope  | 247 |
| Taiwan: A Fresh Opportunity to Establish an NHRI?  | 266 |