

Contents

Foreword	5
-----------------------	---

Acknowledgements	7
-------------------------------	---

Introduction – The cultural contradictions of the “information society”	9
--	---

1. Defining media today: spectacles or services?	23
2. Fostering ethics beyond access.....	63
3. Reclaiming dignity	95
4. Constructing a positive lifelong dynamic identity	125
5. Securing Privacy 2.0.....	151
6. Creating diversity as a new right for media in culture	189
7. Re-valourising the public service value of the networks.....	225
8. Gatekeeping the gatekeepers.....	263
9. Assessing risk of harm and protection of minors.....	293
10. Connecting media education to human rights: public, open, participatory and ethical.....	333

Conclusion: Modelling the amplification of governance	371
---	-----

Appendix	385
-----------------------	-----

Recommendations and related documents by the Council of Europe and the European Commission	385
---	-----