

Contents

	Foreword by Clive Stafford Smith	5
	Acknowledgements	7
	Introduction	9
	Major Human Rights Conventions	14
Part 1	STATE, IDENTITY & CITIZENSHIP	16
	Political Rights	18
	Genuine democracy entails civil and political rights protected by an independent judiciary capable of holding the government to account.
	Citizenship	20
	The opportunity to vote is fundamental to the enjoyment of citizenship rights.
	Wealth & Inequality	22
	Nearly half the world's population continue to suffer from the effects of severe poverty.
	Quality of Life	24
	Quality of life is based on a range of economic and social rights consistent with leading a dignified life.
	Health	26
	A right to health imposes an obligation on states to promote the conditions under which all citizens can enjoy physical and mental health.
Part 2	JUDICIAL VIOLATIONS & LEGAL RESTRICTIONS	28
	Torture	30
	Although expressly forbidden in all circumstances, torture remains widespread.
	Arbitrary Detention	32
	Some states use unfair and arbitrary detention as a means of political control.
	Capital Punishment	34
	Punishment by death is a long-established feature of many religious traditions, and also unites otherwise quite different societies, such as the USA and China.
	Policing	36
	Governments have a fundamental duty to protect the security of their citizens, but far too often police officers become violators, rather than protectors, of citizens' human rights.
Part 3	FREEDOM OF EXPRESSION & CENSORSHIP	38
	Freedom of Speech	40
	The expression of opinions and views is widely considered a fundamental attribute of individual freedom.
	Communications Censorship	42
	The capacity to seek, receive and impart information is central to the exercise of individual liberty, and is an essential attribute of a genuinely open society.
	Assembly & Association	44
	Restrictions on the right to assemble remain a central tool by which notional "democracies" and overtly authoritarian regimes thwart and distort the will of the people.

Part 4 CONFLICT & MIGRATION 46

Genocide 48

The urge to prevent genocide is one of the central elements of the modern human rights movement.

War & Armed Conflict 50

War and armed conflict have a devastating impact on human rights.

Arms Trade 52

Access to arms continues to affect people's human rights even after a conflict has ended.

Terrorism 54

Terrorism is fundamentally incompatible with respect for human rights.

UN Peacekeeping 56

UN peacekeeping missions make an important contribution to the protection of human rights.

Refugees, IDPs & Stateless 58

Refugees and IDPs are a barometer of political instability and continuing systematic persecution.

Part 5 DISCRIMINATION 60

Religious Freedom 62

Religious faith is a central feature of human life, with around 80 percent of people in the world professing allegiance to a religion.

Minorities 64

Minorities exist in almost all countries, and many suffer persecution, oppression and systematic discrimination.

Racism 66

Real progress has been made in the area of racial equality, but racist attitudes and overt forms of discrimination continue in many parts of the world today.

Disabilities & Mental Health 68

People with physical and mental disabilities have been abused and discriminated against for centuries, and this continues across the world today.

Sexual Freedom 70

A right to sexual freedom is yet to be formally recognized as a fundamental human right.

สำหรับเพื่อการศึกษาและการอ้างอิงเท่านั้น
For educational use and reference only

Part 6 WOMEN'S RIGHTS 72

Women's Civil Rights 74

The systematic denial and restriction of women's civil rights across the world remains one of the central challenges to the human rights movement.

Domestic Violence 76

The stark reality for many women is that their right to life and security is most at risk within the home and from their intimate partners.

Rape 78

Rape constitutes a fundamental violation of the victim's human right to personal security, and is a truly global phenomenon.

Right to Choose 80

A woman's right to choose whether to continue with a pregnancy remains embroiled in political and moral controversy throughout the world.

Female Genital Mutilation 82

From a human rights perspective, FGM is a violent act with significant and long-lasting consequences for its victims.

Sex Slavery 84

The human rights doctrine is founded on the notion that no human being should be reduced to the status of a mere commodity.

Part 7 CHILDREN'S RIGHTS 86

Child Labour 88

Over 190 million children aged between 5 and 14 years are estimated to be employed in some form of economic activity.

Child Soldiers 90

There are an estimated 300,000 soldiers under the age of 18, waging war across the world.

Education 92

Education is a core right and the basis for obtaining a wide range of other human rights.

Child Mortality & Health 94

Of all of the human rights children possess, their rights to life and to the enjoyment of health are most at threat around the globe.

Part 8 COUNTRY PROFILES & WORLD DATA 96

Country Profiles 98

World Data 114

Sources 122

Index 127

For educational use and reference only