

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction	1
Part 1: The Study of Third World Politics and Development	5
1 The Problem Area	7
Third World Development	7
Third World Politics of Development: The Symbiosis of the Political and Economic Spheres	9
Other Themes?	14
2 The Subdiscipline	16
Political Modernisation	16
Third World Politics	17
The Politics of Development	20
Politics and Late Development	23
Other Views?	29
3 Analytical Approaches	31
4 Political and Scientific Conjunctions	35
The Colonial and Anti-Colonial Inheritance	35
Great Power Interests, Area Studies and Modernisation Theory	36
Interest in Development Problems, Thematic Studies and Dependency Theory	36
On the Terms of the World Market – Area Studies and Neo-Classical Theory	37
In Search of New Models – Institutional and Post-Marxist Perspectives	38
Part 2: The Discussion on Third World Politics and Development	41
5 (I) Modernisation and Political Development	45
The Political Sociology and Economy of Modernisation	45
From Tradition to Modernity	47
Broad Society-Oriented Analyses	48
The Western Modernisation Project versus the Radical Nation-State Project	50
Summary	51

6 (II) Revised Modernisation and Guided Development	54
New Points of Departure in Conditions of Incomplete Modernisation	54
Conflicts, Clientelism, Inefficient Institutions and State Room for Manoeuvre	56
Organised Interests, Historical Continuity and Political Leadership	58
The Politics of Order versus Non-Capitalist Development Summary	59 61
7 (III) Dependency and Politics	64
The Political Effects of Underdevelopment	64
International Economic Determinism	66
Anti-Imperialism and Self-Centred Development Summary	66 68
8 (IV) Class Politics and the Relative Autonomy of the State	70
The Actual Pattern of Development	70
Classes and Interests	72
Class Politics	74
The Relative Autonomy of the State	75
Political Marxism	77
Summary	77
9 (V) Rent-Seeking Politicians and Bureaucrats	80
No Short Cuts to Progress	80
Neo-Classical Premises	80
Too Much Politics	81
Economistic Explanatory Models	82
Disarm the State and the Special Interests Summary	83 84
10 (VI) The Primacy of Institutions	86
From Earlier to Renewed Discussion	86
The Individual and the Market are not Everything	86
Transaction Costs and State Direction	87
Political Institutions and Organisations	90
Institutional and Historical Explanations	96
Crafting Democracy and Good Government Summary	97 102
11 (VII) Post-Marxist Alternatives	106
The Need for Revised Marxism and Institutionalism	106
Control of Resources, Political Dominance and Social Movements	108
From Substantive Theory to Analytical Framework	112

New Movements and an Alternative Common Interest	113
Summary	115
Part 3: From a School to a Perspective and Study of One's Own: The Case of Democratisation	119
12 Towards the Study of Democratisation in the Context of Late Development	123
Democratic and Authoritarian Modernisation	124
Neo-Modernism, the Rational Elite, Civil Society and 'Good Governance'	125
How Fruitful are the Explanatory Models of Today?	127
Which Research Problems Merit Continued Attention?	132
13 From Civil Society and Social Capital to the Politics of Democratisation	135
General Theoretical Weaknesses	136
Problems of Generalisation	139
Dubious Relevance	141
The Weakness of Politics Against Fragmentation	142
Fragmentation of Interests and Democratisation	150
Towards the Study of the Politics of Democratisation	152
Conclusion	168
Study Questions	172
References	176
Index	189

สำหรับเพื่อการศึกษาและการอ้างอิงเท่านั้น
For educational use and reference only